

THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE

Bonanza Found in Gilmore, Idaho

State Mine Inspector Expresses Opinion—Formations Similar to Those of Tintic.

Growing accounts are current concerning a new Viola mine in Idaho. State Mine Inspector Bell, who recently visited the property of the Gilmore Mining company, was surprised at the conditions presented in the mine. He found it one of the great silver-lead mines of the country.

There is 30 feet of solid ore that carries from 30 to 70 per cent lead, with a half ounce of silver for each unit of lead, there also being a small quantity of gold.

This is all shipping ore. During the past season the company shipped what would be equivalent to 200 tons of ore of the ore, which was hauled by team to Dubois, 55 miles at a cost of $10 a ton.

The property was located in the early days, when the Viola was producing such great quantities of ore, the claims being made on the 1 and the Silver Dollar.

Some work was done on the ground at that time, developing a small vein on the surface. Two and a half years ago an eastern business man who was interested at Tintic, visited the property. He made a careful investigation of the surface and found the formation just like the one at the Tintic camp. Becoming satisfied the property was a likely one for development, he purchased it and started to cut the ledge showing at the surface, surveys indicating that the tunnel would have to be driven some 350 feet.

At 90 feet from the portal, the tunnel opened a blind lead which carried good ore. Development disclosed the fact that there was a sheet 40 feet in length and 1 to 4 feet in width, the ore being of very fine grade. The tunnel was extended to the other vein, but it did not prove valuable.

The blind lead had been struck 70 feet from its apex. Further work developed the fact that the vein was a pure silver, one of which followed a considerable distance, was larger than the vein. Subsequently an incline was started on the vein and it was found the ore body increased as depth was gained. Afterward a vertical shaft was started, which has been sunk to a depth of 100 feet below the tunnel level. All the spurs seem to be united with the vein at that depth, making a solid 25-foot body of ore.

Shipments have been suspended for the winter, but a force of twenty men is employed developing the property. During the winter the vertical shaft is to be sent down 100 feet farther and the ore body explored.

To the Idaho Statesman Mr. Bell said that the vein was a replacement feature, in pure blue lime. It has a north and south strike and dips at about 70 degrees across the bedding of the formation. Evidences abound of its being a replacement feature, places where the original walls have been protected against the decomposing effect of the mineral solution and the ore body caused by the faulting movement are numerous.

The evidence is very strong, Mr. Bell says, that another Viola bonanza has been opened, possessing many advantages over the Viola itself. The latter lay very flat, while this is very straight. Further, this mine is right at the foot of the mountain, and can be worked to the greatest possible advantage.

RICH ORE STRUCK

Idaho City Men Have a Good Property.

News from Idaho says that the South African tunnel, run east from the west end of the bench, south of the original discovery made by Bernard McGill and John McNally, Idaho City, has been extended ninety feet. The face is forty or fifty feet north of the shaft sunk in the fall of 1903, and the depth of the bench. The ore body, forty or fifty feet wide, that was opened this year in a cut run in the west end of the bench, is south of this tunnel. Twelve feet of this cross-cut in the ledge, which is composed of both hard and decomposed quartz, and is the same character as the ore worked by McGill & Co. This company followed the ledge quite a distance west of their shaft, says the Idaho World, all the way in an ore shoot, but it was only a short distance east. The recent strike in the cross-cut 100 feet or more east of the old shaft, which is shot to be very extensive. The foot wall of this ledge in the cross-cut has not been cut. A great deal of the ore in this ledge is easily broken, and is coarse and plainly visible. The ore carries oxide of iron, and in some quartz, while this is not so rich as the ore in the ledge. The entire twelve feet of rock is very rich. The tunnel and cross-cut are on a level with the collar of the McGill shaft. The ledge is about forty feet higher than this shaft. Work was suspended a few days ago, but it is expected that it will be resumed soon, and the company will be prepared to carry on operations on a more extensive scale.

AT GREAT COST.

Much Money Is Spent to Develop Pyramid Mines.

R. W. Parry, superintendent of the mines at Pyramid, which are owned by the Pacific Consolidated Mining company, returned from the mines a few days ago, and reports that the assessment work has been completed on thirty claims. A large amount of work has also been done on the two patented claims owned by the company, and the work has been put in shape for a prosperous year's work.

He says that in the last year over $30,000 has been expended on the Pyramid mines, and that the company intends to do a great deal more work during the year 1905.

The two largest mines have been fitted up with modern mining machinery and a large amount of ore is being taken out. The force of miners at Pyramid will be increased on the first of the year and development work will be started on several other claims.

Charles B. Hill, chief attorney of the Goldingham, Electric company and president of the Pacific Consolidated Mining company, will arrive in Reno from New York within the next week and will follow the report filed in the mine. Manager of the property. He and other stockholders will visit the claims every year and decide upon the development work to be done during the following year.

With the properties and company well equipped in place we are going to open the ore body and open it right.

GOOD INDICATIONS.

Machinery for Glencoe Mine Is Being Installed.

The machinery for the Glencoe property, now under the management of Messrs. Ferry and Hancock, arrived this week and is being installed at the mine. Manager George R. Hancock has expressed his opinion of the outlook of the prospect as follows: "With an ore body 70 feet long at a depth of 300 feet beneath the surface we have got what most sensible people, I think, would consider a 'good indication,' at least. With the new machinery and equipment in place we are going to open the ore body and open it right."

Amargosa Camp Is Progressing

Nevada Is Developing Another Rich Camp—Breyfogle Mine Story Is Doubtful.

Amargosa consists of five general stores, six saloons, one restaurant, a fine lodging-house, an assay-office, post-office, butcher shop, Recorder's office, feed corral and aivery stable, says the Tonopah Sun. Lots on Main street are selling for from $300 to $500 each.

A pipe-line is being laid from the springs ten miles distant to the town. It will discharge twelve miners' inches of water. The telephone line is twenty miles out of Goldfield and the post forty-five.

At Ladd mountain a tunnel has been commenced that will penetrate the side of the slope at least 70 feet. A shaft is down thirty feet. Development work at Indian Springs has been commenced. A big strike has been made one mile north of Amargosa. A seam of talc shows values that run into the hundreds of dollars.

Construction of the road from Goldfield to the Bullfrog country will begin at once. The new road will make the distance between the towns fifty-five miles. At Amargosa is a 22 barrel and will soon be much less. Wood is said to be cheaper than in Tonopah.

Schebler, Cormick & Galloway have discovered rich ore one and a half miles from town. It assays $50 to $200 a ton. It is said that persons who have recently returned from the so-called Breyfogle strike say that there is nothing in it. Many openly declare the whole thing a fake of the most apparent kind.

Compressor for the Comstock

Thaynes Canyon Property to Have a Set of Power Drills and New Equipment.

At the Comstock mine, in Park City, a compressor plant and power drills are now assured. The management has been considering for some time the installation of those improvements. Final arrangements are now completed and an order has been placed for a five-drill Rand compressor and a full complement of drills, piping, hose and other equipment necessary to make the plant a perfect one in every respect. Although considerable progress has been made with the usual process of hand drilling, the work has been necessarily rather slow, especially at the present time. At the time of the engineer's visit in November the engineer, one of the best in the country, a cook and but one miner.

The engineer reported that he found the mine, which was probably a discovery, having been found about thirty-five years ago. The property is forty-nine miles by wagon road southeasterly from Lovelock, Humboldt county, Nevada. It costs $30 per ton to get freight to the nearest town. The mining and general operations are being conducted by the Comstock Compressor and Drilling company, a corporation organized for the purpose.

There are indications on the following described stock, on account of assessment of the property, held on the 8th day of January, 1905, at 9 o'clock a. m., to pay the delinquent assessment thereon, together with the cost of advertising and expense of sale.

Good Mine Owned by Salt Lakers

Cecil Rhodes Mine, Near the Salt Lake Road, Has Good Spring and Fine Ore.

Owners of the Cecil Rhodes mine, on the route of the Clark road, were congratulating themselves yesterday. This mine, which was described in The Tribune two weeks ago, is in San Bernardino county, California. The cause for the owners' joy is the discovery of a spring within easy distance of the mine. The water in the country is almost as valuable as the gold itself.

The mine is located in what is known as the Providence Mining district. Some samples were shipped up to the city last week. The assayer's report shows values of $22.10 in 65 tons of ore. There are some 500 tons of the stuff in sight and there is no doubt that there is more good ore behind that. It is a free-milling mine and recent development has made it a valuable property.

Hitherto the two main difficulties in the way of development have been lack of transportation facilities and water. The former has been solved by the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad. The mine is only about two miles from the road and the hauling by team for that distance will be easy. The find of water is a most favorable place doubles the value. The water can be piped to the mine with very little difficulty and small cost. A small force of men has been at work clearing out and the beginning of the year will probably see something doing there.

The mine is entirely by Salt Lake men. They located it three years ago, while on a surveying party. Having an eye to the coming of the railroad they secured their property. They hope soon to reap the benefit.

REPORT ON NEVADA PROPERTY. Experts Investigate Nickel Mines in Humboldt County.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—In the interest of some capitalists whose attention had been called to the American Nickel company, an expert mining engineer was recently sent to Nevada to make an inspection of the mines of this company. The stock had been offered on the curb for $1 and $5 per share.

The engineer reported that he found the mine, which was probably a discovery, having been found about thirty-five years ago. The property is forty-nine miles by wagon road southeasterly from Lovelock, Humboldt county, Nevada. It costs $30 per ton to get freight to the nearest town.
